A1DX MkII

FOR THE CANON 1DX MARK II

UPDATE

LOWER PRICING STARTING AT $3,995.00 USD RETAIL

INCLUDES THE COMPLETE SURVEYOR KIT WITH VALVE AND PUMP!!!

We recently got back from the Dema show and had a great time. We were happy to introduce the latest additions to the Aquatica line up. Our A1DX MKII housing for the Canon 1DX MKII got a lot of interest from many people. It is undeniable that with a maximum of 14fps standard/16fps Live View burst rate and up to 170 RAW images per blast when using a Cfast card, as well as improved AF performance and 4K video capture, this camera is destined to be the camera of choice for serious underwater photographers.

Given the great success of this housing we are reducing the retail price to $3,995.00 USD and to top it off we are including the complete Surveyor kit which includes the moisture alarm board, vacuum valve and the pump!!!

"The Canon 1DXmark II and A1DCX Mark II Aquatica housing is a solid choice for my professional needs. The 14fps continuous burst rate, high ISO performance and great AF allow me to concentrate in the subject and build my image. And there's the 4K high quality video... The Aquatica housing has easy access to the camera controls and its solid construction plus the vacuum system gives me peace of mind in any underwater situation."

"The Canon 1DXii is by far the best camera I have ever shot. Whether shooting buttery smooth 4k video at 60 frames per second, or shooting stills with it's blistering fast 14 frames per second you can rest assured that you will always have the goods to nail the shot. On top of all that the amazing low light performance and focus tracking in video truly make this camera an underwater photographers dream."
